

COVID-19 Hospital testing

You need to have a test for coronavirus.

The virus is also called COVID-19.

You will arrive at the clinic and wait in line.

You will stand far apart from others in the line.

When it is your turn, you will go to the screening station to see the nurse

You may want to bring something that makes you feel good.

The nurse will be wearing a gown, face mask, eye mask, and gloves.

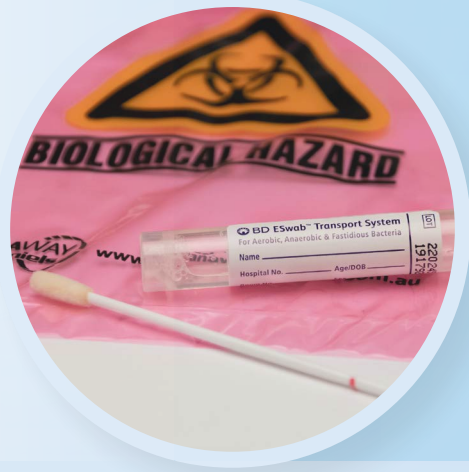

The nurse will ask you some questions and want to see your medicare card.

If the nurse thinks you need a test, you will go to a waiting area.

When it is your turn, the nurse will call you into another room.

The nurse will show you the swab.

The nurse will put the swab inside your nose or at the back of your throat.

When it is your turn, the nurse will call you into another room.

You can go home now.
You will find out your results in 2 - 3 days by phone call.
